To enable participation in the Performing Arts

Blackburn Festival gives the opportunity for amateurs to form an appreciation of artistic standards; to perform in a state of the art venue, before a different type of audience; to participate in workshops and master classes; to be assessed, encouraged and inspired by active professional adjudicators they would not meet in any other way.

Every skill gained in preparing for and giving a performance is a valuable skill which will be used at job interviews, in the workplace, in leisure activities and interpersonal relationships throughout life.

Our Festival is entirely organised and run by volunteers, not just the Festival Committee, but also those who give up their weekends throughout the Festival days to ensure our performers have a good experience. Few realise the enormous amount of detailed planning which lies behind the Festival itself. Anyone who can take responsibility for organising a particular element of Blackburn Festival is most welcome.

Adjudicators educate and inspire greater appreciation of the work being performed both for the performer and the audience alike. We employ BIFF affiliated adjudicators to ensure high standards are maintained just as the founders of Blackburn Festival intended nearly 80 years ago.

Our Aims

Enjoy

To celebrate and enjoy the performance of Speech, Music and Dance shown by all who take part in our festival;

Nurture

To encourage and nurture all participants regardless of ability or background to ensure that they enjoy a warm and welcoming experience to help them grow in self confidence;

Achieve

To highlight excellence and celebrate achievement by organising a public Festival to which professional adjudicators bring expertise, guidance and an educational aspect to the performers and audience;

Serve

To develop long lasting relationships with our greatly appreciated Patrons, Sponsors, Teachers, Schools, the Local Community and Friends of the Festival;

Endure

To continue in the footsteps of committees since 1945 to ensure that Blackburn Festival endures for many more years.

Adjudicator

Christopher Marlow

BA, MA, PhD, PGCE, PGDip, LLCM, FVCM

Chris trained at the universities of Manchester and Oxford, winning as an undergraduate, The John Osborne Award. A member of Equity and the Society of Teachers of Speech & Drama (STSD), he is also a life member of the Oxford Union, the eminent university debating society.

A freelance teacher of speech and drama, and a working professional with television, radio and theatre experience, Chris's credits include 'Born and Bred' (BBC One), Granada Reports (ITV), BBC Radio Lancashire, BBC Radio Merseyside and 'The Sound of Music' (UK theatre tour). However, teaching remains his passion and Chris's students can be found in most of the major UK and USA drama schools including RADA, LAMDA, Guildhall, American Academy of Dramatic Arts, Stella Adler etc. and thereafter on stage and screen

He is an adjudicator member of the British and International Federation of Festivals and has extensive experience as an examiner for the Central School of Speech & Drama, Guildhall, LAMDA and TCL. He now examines for the London College of Music, assessing speech, drama and musical theatre performances worldwide.

Festival Regulations

All entries must be sent to the relevant Secretary on or before the closing date.

The committee reserves the right to refuse any entry, to combine or withdraw any class deemed to have insufficient entries, or to divide any class with a large number of entries.

The Festival is open to amateurs only, and the following definitions apply:

Amateur: any person whose livelihood is derived from services other than teaching and performing music, speech and dance.

Novice: any competitor who has never achieved 1st, 2nd or 3rd place in any recognised Festival.

Student Teacher: any competitor who does not derive their sole income from teaching.

Any protest must be in writing, duly signed, stating the cause, and must be delivered to the Secretary on the day of the competition together with a fee of £5 which will be refunded if the protest is upheld.

The order of competing in all classes will be decided by ballot and performers will be informed of class timings.

The starting times of the classes are approximate and classes may start before or after the times stated. Performers should arrive in good time for their classes.

In classes where special conditions are laid down, failure to observe said conditions will lead to disqualification.

Entry fees include the Adjudicator's remarks which will be available at the end of each class or session. No entry fee will be returnable.

The Festival Committee shall have the power to decide all other matters connected with the conduct of the Festival not provided for in these regulations.

All communications must be addressed to the relevant Secretary.

Communications with the Adjudicator concerning any matter relating to the Festival by competitors, teachers or other interested parties prior to or during the competitions is prohibited.

Video recording, photography and audio recording during any performance is prohibited.

Prayer Book Society

The Prayer Book Society was founded to spread knowledge of the Book of Common Prayer and ensure its continued use in Church.

The Cranmer Awards offer an annual opportunity for school pupils between the ages of 11 to 18 from all over the country to speak Archbishop Cranmer's unsurpassed words.

Candidates from the Blackburn Diocese may enter as individuals through two classes, and, sponsored by The Prayer Book Society, there is no entry fee for these classes. The winners go through to a National Final early in 2025 where the prizes in each group will be:

1st - £300 2nd - £200 3rd - £100

Expenses for travel and overnight accommodation can be claimed for the candidate and one accompanying adult.

Adjudicators will take into consideration diction and clarity, pace and phrasing and intelligent communication of the meaning. (Any deviation from the text of the 1662 Book of Common Prayer such as adding phrases such as 'This is the Gospel of Christ' at the end of a reading will be penalised).

130. 11 – 14 years - Time limit 5 minutes

131. 15 – 18 years - Time limit 5 minutes

Use of Recorded Music, Poetry & Prose for Solo Dramatic Items

Blackburn Festival has entered, through BIFF, into an agreement with the Authors' Licensing and Collecting Society. This means that entrants do not have to obtain copyright permission for any poetry, prose or solo dramatic items performed at the Festival to a time limit of ten minutes. Solo dramatic pieces must be announced with the Title and Author at the time of performance to qualify for copyright indemnity and the performer must not change the words or gender of the character. Groups are not covered by this agreement, and copyright for these items must be sought at the time of entry. The Festival Committee accepts these entries on the basis that appropriate copyright permission has been sought.

Speech Own Choice – for copyright purposes the name of the work, the title, author, time and publisher should be stated on the entry form and changes are not permitted after the closing date for entry (13th January 2024).
